Share this story. It is all about the invisible strings that connect us. Remember that we are all still connected even if we haven't been in school or maybe there are other friends or relatives you have not been able to see recently. Even though when we come back to school in September you won't be in Robin, Rabbit or Rainbowfish class we are all still connected by our 'invisible strings' and look forward to seeing you at school in the future and giving you a

Can you decode the message?

Maybe you could also write a coded message back to us.

wave or having a chat.
Can you draw a picture of yourself in the middle of a piece of paper and then draw some 'strings' showing who the most important people in your life are, who do you feel most connected to?

Paint a picture that shows your mood or feeling. What colours will you use, what shapes? It doesn't have to look like anything, just enjoy the process.

MATHS

Take our learning outside!

Can you chalk or water paint your numbers to 5? to 10? to 20? We'd love to see a photo of your work. Watch your numbers the right way around!

Take our learning outside!

Make an outdoor clock! You could use stones, pebbles, twigs or any other natural materials.

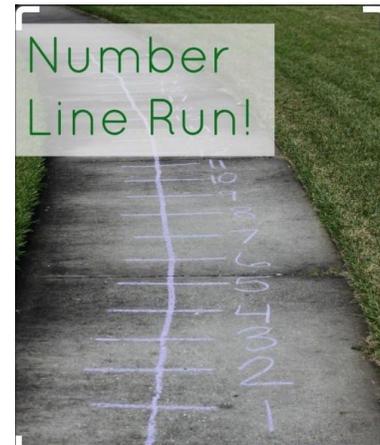

Take our learning outside!

Capacity- which container holds the most? Find 5 different containers and make a guess which holds the most and which holds the least. Were you correct?

Take our learning outside!

Number line run game. Mark out a number line with chalks. Get an adult to tell you which number to run to. How fast can you run it? Did you run to the right number?

Last day of 'home school'! What have you loved most about being schooled at home? What are you most looking forward to about going back in September? Make a list of all the fun things you are going to do in the holidays! Do you have any goals? Maybe you want to learn to ride your bike, perfect a cartwheel, learn to cook a meal, make something spectacular out of lego...

You could also sign up to The Summer Reading Challenge which continues online at www.sillysquad.org.uk and will run until September.
